

PROFESSIONAL ADVISORS COUNCIL

Respected professionals partner with Community First Foundation

Community First Foundation is fortunate to partner with professional advisors to identify the best ways to guide their clients through the charitable gift process. We bring these top professionals together through a Professional Advisors Council. Members serve as a Foundation resource, offer insights into the changing work of philanthropic giving, learn more about the community and develop opportunities to address their clients' philanthropic goals.

A valued resource

Council members serve as ambassadors by increasing awareness of the Foundation's work in the community. Members also broaden the circle of advisors who recommend the Foundation to their clients and help develop events and activities to support a strong connection between the professional advisor community and the Foundation.

Connecting donor vision with community needs

The Council gathers on a quarterly basis to present and discuss different topics surrounding charitable giving and estate planning. These events offer an opportunity for professional advisors to explore new strategies for meeting their clients' charitable giving needs.

Meeting community needs

One of Community First Foundation's strategic priorities is to power community by increasing generosity. The Professional Advisors Council is essential to achieving success in this area.

Charitable support and service

Community First Foundation supports professional advisors and their clients in every step of the charitable giving process. We help advisors:

- Identify their clients' charitable giving interests and motivations
- Match personal charitable interests with tax planning needs
- Facilitate gifts of cash and securities, as well as complex assets, including real estate, closely held stock and mineral interests
- Provide information on community needs, nonprofit organizations and programs that make a difference in the charitable areas their clients care about most
- Deliver grantmaking expertise
